B&W Unrestricted: The New Normal Unlike Ever Before

By Tony D. Lilles

Finding art in our daily lives is challenging, it is often said. Or is it just more challenging when your movement is restricted? But restrictions, whether in a theme for a photo competition or in a given space and time, can also be fun and rewarding because we tend to like the limit to our focus and on what you can find happening around you in the here-and-now. People tend to connect with art because they find themselves a part of it! So, New Normal is what we call personalized art. Art in the modern world is always associated with human emotions. Entries are really meant to inspire and even manipulate human emotions especially now and in such a way that one would not have been able to understand it if it were not due to this ongoing pandemic.

Mark Burgos (1st place), Adel Samson (2nd place) and Fred del Rosario (3rd place) found and accomplished exactly that. They connected us with our emotions and captured our feeling of the moment (if not of the whole year). The judges evaluated the art on its impact on the audience...and the new normal.

Adel Samson is Photographer of the Month for 2 strong entries and accumulation of scores. Mark Burgos comes in second and we are happy to see him back. Fred del Rosario continues to be active and persistent in the competitions.
